We don't have anything as yet that is DF specific. We are scouting around for some folks to run some stuff Dwarven Forge style. Unofrtunately the Con does not own any DF yet and none of our imidiate councilors do. We are still reaching out though...that was why I posted here.

We are expecting 500 and new events are coming in all the time. Plus we haven't released the PreReg stuff yet. There is always a rush of new events right AFTER it goes out it seems.

You say its a little far out...the hotel rooms are only $36 a night. Where would you be coming from? We are only about 2 hrs from both Columbus and Cincinatti OH. I belive it took me 5 hrs to get to Chicago.

We Had been Chatting up the Idea of a DF "Con" at one Point on these Boards... It Seemed like there may have been Folks In your General Area... Maybe Set a Room Aside For People to Set "Their Own" Stuff up? And See if there is Interest? I Would Happily Come Check you Folks out any way, but it is Simply Out of My Range of Easy Trips... Good Luck though... I assume you are One of the Organizers?

Yes i am one of the organizers, you could say i am the one with the whip ;)

We just sent the Pre Reg book off to the printers and there were 106 events in it. i believe it will be a great con.

Please come check out our website www.runic-con.com

we also have people coming from Columbus, Chicago, Indianapolis, and more the farthest ones that are coming for sure to date, is a small group from Connecticut.

so come on down anyway!
