To Thod and all Europeans for a roll call

Dear Thod.

Please let me know if your idea of acting as a one time distributor comes to anything. I will definately buy one DoE set from that proposed shipment. I would suggest that offer a Paypal option to your European buyers, as it is instant and safe.

To fellow European DF collectors, why not do a roll call in this thread, saying whether we would be interested in Thod`s suggestion.

I am Paul from London, UK, and I WOULD be interested in buying a set from Thod if he decided to go ahead.

Cheers

London Dungeoneer

By the way Thod, I would be willing to pay £5 over and above the price of the Set and the postage for your time. If there is enough interest here, perhaps that will help swing the Mrs.

I'm interested too. I haven't got any DF stuff, but I've been wanting to buy it for a few years now. :)

It's too bad that DF ain't coming to Europe, but I guess the fan base is too small. Then again, if they don't start something in Europe, their fan base here won't grow...so it's kinda stuck.

I'm starting a Gaming Store with a few friends in about a half year, and I'd be very interested in having a few of DF's stuff to showcase. Maybe that'd kickstart DF in Europe? :)

I thought I bump this up. I stumbled upon it when I was looking when I first acted as a spokesperson to bundle Europeans to get direct distributions again.

Yes - scary - its pretty exactly 6 years ago. Can't spot a date - only 5 years, 12 month ago.

Does anyone know the Lundon Dungeoneer. I would like to let him know I heard his call and answered it. He was one of the active people here in the early days but hasn't been around for years.

I know - Camoudragon is still around.

I don't know what happened to Enurunner. Did the store ever take off? Is it still around?

I am from germany and met Thod on the game fair in Essen. I already ordered 6 sets from him and am waiting patiently (for a dwarf) for the Tactica in Hamburg to hopefully get the new DOE Set.
