Zombie pirates! (non-DF, non-mini)

OK, this is really kinda off-topic, but I figured there might be some forum members who would like seeing it all the same.

I tried my hand at action-figure customizing -- made some cursed, zombie pirates for the 3 3/4" Pirates of the Caribbean line by Zizzle. I combined them with parts from a defunct Army of Darkness line, and I am pretty pleased with the results. Painting needs some work, still, but I think they look neat.

Great stuff L.

You bring some neat-o things to the forum.

Thanks!

P.S. H-man (Harris) said to say hello…

A few pics of one final cursed pirate -- Barbossa himself. "You best start believin' in ghost stories -- yer in one!"

L,

The pirates look great!

What also amazes me is how versatile (scale-wise) that arched bridge is in the background. It looks great from 25-28mm right up to the 3 3/4 scale shown there - I had no idea it was so useful!

Have you managed to use it in any DF related setups lately?

Steve.
