Just thought I'd post some of the miniatures I've painted.  I'm glad to be using them in my games.

I've had the pack horses for so long, I can't tell who made them.  I think they may be Ral Partha, but I can't say for sure.

I use this for my Gnome's pack mule.  When you're three feet tall, it's good to have a beast of burden to carry your loot.

:D

Awesome paint jobs. I especially like the woman, cool mini. Nice blending on the robe and the make up, nice touch.

The lovely lady is a sculpt from Gael Goumon, a freelancer who does work for a number of mini makers. I had the mini, and during an Legend of the Five Rings game got inspired to paint her as Isawa Himiko, a Crane girl (originally Doji Himiko) with Dangerous Beauty and a penchant for stirring up trouble with her coy flirtations.  She wound up marrying our Isawa shugenja - good luck to him, he'll need it!

Ditto whitewind's comments about the blending and shading on the robe.  Nicely done!
