SCI-FI Accessory? Posted by Thor - 2004/04/20 19:46
Will there ever be (or are there existing plans) for a Sci-Fi Accessory Set, in the style of the Dungeor Acces. set?
Cargo Pallets Bunks Weapons Lockers Remote Sensors Vacc Suits
I'd buy several. I love my Prop Box. :)

This Just In
Some guy on the D&D site claims to have seen pictures of two new Sci-Fi Pcs.
- 2 Pillers with wires and stuff - 1 Computer Consule
I think these are the pieces that you can see on that Con Photo,
Not very earth shaking, but I thought it might be news. :rolleyes:

And While I am Dreaming of DF Taking Care of Every Detailed Nerny, I'll Go ahead and Request Washroom Fixtures as Well... Woo Hoo... With Colored Tile Floors... Ahem... Yes I Think Someone in another Thread already Mentioned that this was Like Doll Houses for Middle Aged Guys Huh..... SCI-FI Accessory? Posted by Thor - 2004/04/26 14:32 Some odd ideas: 1) Large clear "fish tank" thing with wired fish things in it. 2) Large vid-screen with star maps & data. 3) An emergancy "escape pod" would be neat. 4) Holo-chess game table. 5) Weapons scanner/detector. 6) Damaged - Blown-up Floor tiles. -- Just think out loud.....:) SCI-FI Accessory? Posted by MyLordVoid - 2004/04/26 18:51 Kewl... I Like the Idea of the Fishtank Sort of Like The Cyber-dolphin Tank in Johnny Mnemonic? SCI-FI Accessory? Posted by Thor - 2004/04/26 19:28 Yeah but much more dangerous......These could be mind-reading alian what-nots freak-out fish!!!! . I was thinking 2 squares long. But a bigger Baactta (SP? Star wars) tank could be cool. (bubbles etc.,) Hope they make small grav-carts or air rafts and stuff to race around on :lol:

Know what would be cool? Laser trap triggers. Like lasers coming out of the wall like all those cliche B&E movies.
