

Set Display Images - What you can build with one or more sets

Posted by Myrthe - 2006/08/14 14:11

Hi all -

I really liked the way the new MBS order page provided images of what you can do with multiple sets. I think that's a fantastic idea and it might be worth revisiting all the older set order pages to do that there as well. I, for one, have purchased single sets only to realize that another one (or 2) would have provided many more set-up options (I know, "duh"). Showing the single-set options is also beneficial for new customers or those with tighter budgets who think that they could never do anything cool with just one set so, instead, don't even order any.

Just a thought ...

- Mike

BTW, the above does not mean that I don't have a tight budget, rather, I am fiscally irresponsible and choose not to eat so I can order more DF :) However, through years of dilligent martial arts training I have finally mastered the technique of gaining sustenance from poly-resin ;)

=====