OK... So on the Topic of Fantasy Sets We would Like to See, How about Rooms/ Buildings we would Like to See DF Design (ala' Ogres Den)...

Note: For the Large "Ornate" Room I'm Pictureing a Room at Least 20" across with Multiple "Door ways" Maybe Pillars, Tapastries Etc... That Could be a Multipurpose "Special" Room...

Other Ideas that Would not "Fit" within the Poll Are:

a) Tavern... (Of Course)...
b) Throne Room...
c) Treasure Room/ Vault...
d) Smithy...
e) Other Monster Den... (Dank and Scary)...
f) Crypt...

I voted for the Mage's study. I'm just not big on the idea of an inn, as that can be done quite convincingly with already existing DF pieces.
I also liked the jail cells (but the Fantasy Floot set should help with this) and Crypt (again, the Fantasy Floor set will help).
A mage's study, with bookshelves, scrolls, grimoires and maybe the odd experiment or two, as well as charts on the wall, a hearth/fire place and mana stones on a desk could make quite an awesome piece.

Alkatchoff,

Mages Study Seems Likely a Good Idea to me as Well... I Would Love to See a Kewl Torture Chamber as Well... The Crypt and Jail Being taken Care of by the Floor Sections would be Viable if the Pieces were to be available individually... But thus Far the Resounding Answer from on DF High has been that they will not be.....
