What works best for individual pieces?

Posted by Lone__Gunman - 2008/02/26 01:28

_____

I was eyeballing the 6" x 6" Square Floors (Set of 6) #16404, thinking what a deal it seemed, and then began puzzling over what existing sets that would go best with, or go with at all.

Any thoughts or ideas?

==========

What works best for individual pieces?

Posted by Harneloot - 2008/02/26 06:07

_____

Lots of Room sets, and lots of 6inch walls! (which are in the Wicked Addtions 2 set)

Really, any Dungeon set where you want lots of floor space.

==========

What works best for individual pieces?

Posted by Swifthand - 2008/02/26 10:21

_____

I have about 10 different dungeon sets, and I find floors are what I end up being short on - I seem to always have walls left over. I didn't give this much thought until I bought the 3 MBS sets a bit ago and trie to use every piece. When all was said and done, I still had some walls left over (I am sure there is a way to use more pieces than I did, but with my designs, this seems to be a common occurance). My point is, Ithink the extra floor sets would work great with whatever set they were designed for, and become more useful the more sets you get. When I put in my next order next week, I know I am going to be getting some floor sets.

-Swift

==========

What works best for individual pieces?

Posted by Wereweasel - 2008/02/26 18:01

_____

They work well as raised floor/stage areas within a larger room. Just add one on top of an existing floor.

They can also be very useful if you like to stack your pieces.

==========