Coincidence ?? I think not.

Wednesday my employer put on a nice Thanksgiving lunch for the employees, and I was very surprised when he handed out generous bonus checks, mine being $400. Arriving back at my desk my email inbox revealed the announcement for Realm of the Ancients preorders, with three sets selling for $387 plus shipping.

Coincidence ? Seems my bonus is FATED go straight to Dwarven Forge. I'm just thrilled about the whole situation !

Hmm; now that I think about it, I've got a Glock 19 on consignment at my FLGS (Friendly Local Gun Shop) that, if I get what I'm ASKING for it, will get me 5 or 6 RotA sets.

Chicklewis

Congratulations !!!

This will sound a lot less - but you take what you get. The UK just reduced the VAT from 17.5% to 15%. Yes - this means that at least a little bit. As the amount is charged on the DF PLUS the shipping it will mean my three ROTA sets I plan to buy might be up aprox. $14 less.

Hmm - on second thoughts - as the dollar is now a lot higher as it was - well - I better don't do that part of the math ...

Anyhow - will have to get my three sets to get all the extra goodies.

Jim,

I just sold a 1950 30-30 for almost 500!!! The collector really wanted that year. It even had rust on it and was badly pitted. You go boy.
