My use of this set has been limited, as a lot of the playing we've done since we got it was in a dungeon or an arena.

Last week our characters had an encounter in a large tavern, and it was amazing how impressed the players were with it. The player who just came back after a year or 2 hiatus was blown away.

The level of detail on the pieces is excellent. Thanks for your attention to detail.

I just found the 2nd set of Tavern accessories I forgot about. Holy smokes!

There is a Special Edition that just came out (I think) packaged in a plastic bowling ball!

"Why is everything such a TRAVESTY with you, man?"

Which reminds me...we need some DF rugs. They'll really tie the Medieval Room Set together.

Talk to Omar the Rug Dealer; he lives with Thod.

I believe Thod said Omar would be back from vacation after the holidays.

And along those lines, have a Happy Season!

I love how my screen name subtly brings up The Big Lebowski. I once answered an agressive poster with quotes only from that movie. It was funny to me, especially because he didn't get the reference.

I do have one of them rugs, and I must say it really ties the hall of heros together...
