Even just reading the title of this was enough for me to say Ni and want to check the date :)

...shrubbery including juniper, dogwood, spirea, boxwood and rose...
WHAT?! This set is a joke! Where is the festive holly, the noble elderberry, the brilliant indigo or dare I even hope for a taxus or tsuga?

Can we expect a Shrubbery 2 Set within the next year or we will have to make do for more than a year with only example of the diverse acacia family?!

I can't believe that after all this time waiting for a shrubbery set I'm about to be saddled with so much boxwood. I mean really who uses boxwood in adventure roleplaying THESE days? Admit it, you've bowed to pressure from The American Boxwood Society haven't you? How many gaming companies will those blackguards come to dominate?!

Gary, son of a shrubber

I knew there was a reason I chopped off all the limbs of my Blackguard mini. Finally, the perfect setting for it!
