This is one of those sets that you might not even realize you need until you have it. It increases the versatility of DF a hundredfold. I highly, highly recommend that everyone pick one of these up.

I've been meaning to post here too. UPS delivered part of my order on Friday...

I was very excited to see an expansion to the original Master Maze line when the ABS2 was announced a while ago, but the full potential of this set is very hard to realize until you have it in hand. It definitely deserves the "Advanced" Builder moniker, as I don't think new DF fans will necessarily appreciate it as much as the old-timers, but this set changes everything. Our dungeons will never look the same again.

Thanks guys. STOKED!

I haven't ordered, but this is the set that pulls us out of rambling, widely spaced subterranean sprawls and into the tight, compact architecture of castles and other medieval stonework.

This is definitely on my list of gotta-gets from DF. (And a long list it is...)

I orderd mine yesterday and have needed it for years. This will fill in the gaps that have needed to be filled. Wish I could afford more than one set.

What a slap in the face !
I opened my box and it took me time to understand why there were so much tiny pieces.What for ? hu ?
I went to the garage and started to make a maze with passages & some T crosses then suddenly the light came to me : this set is amazing !
Now each space can be used !
The simple walls of the size of the doors are excellent.
I needed stone doors and it's done with that ! waouuuu
Thank you so much !!

OK, now this is a useful set. I know my last posts were not complementary of some the recent stuff out, but this set really works well with the other sets and is a recommend buy!

Hello Dwarven Forge Fans
The next big restock is on the horizon and I can hardly wait. If you dont already have a set of Advanced Builder 1 you have to buy one. It's great. It adds a ton of fun options. Gives you the all the tools to make thousands of cool castles and dungeons. Make the map of your dream campaign fit onto your DF table. Narrow Passage set is way more versatile with Adv. B 1 and the 6 inch hallway pieces are super useful. Pre ordering my 2nd & 3rd set :)

I want to thank the whole Dwarven Forge team for making such great sets. Looking forward to all new sets that 2012 is going to bring.

When might we see a restock of Advanced Builder 2?

I must have this set. The small pieces are indispensible when trying to replicate game maps to exact scale.

The DF production cycle sounds like it's in full swing with lots of great sets new and old on there way to us. I hope you can find room in a future shipment to restock this amazing set. It adds depth all you awesome sets.

Please restock Advanced Builder 2!

On a side note, if any of you collectors have a Adv. B 2 set you want to sell to free up cash for one of DF newer sets please let me know.
