Any plans for doing other entrance pieces?

_____

A friend of mine orded 3 RoTA 2 sets and i was able to check out the entrances piece you did for it. I was very impressed and I plan on picking it up as soon as it becomes availbe for sale.

I was wondering if you are planning to come out with other entrances as well? A cave entrance for the caverns you have and a generic dungeon one for your main sets I think would be a great addition.

If it is ever re release I'd like to get one too. but I thought it was only available for people who pre-ordered 3 set of RoTA2. Can we still get one of those pieces now that RoTA2 has been released?

I also wait for the ROTA entrance as single piece.

In general DF release exclusive bonus few of us can afford (the shutters, the tiny boat of the lake sets, the special colored ROTA halls etc) and they are loosing money 'cause we are ready to buy it but not 3 same sets in one time.(for international customers it's science fiction most of the time with douane fees)

Anyway I dream about a dunjeon entrance since it's the main serial of DF.
Logically we should get it before the other serials isn't it ?

-> in fact each serial (CAVERN ROTA DOE DUNJEON) should have a entrance...
Come on Stefan a entrance set ! For all of us.

It was a bonus if you preordered 3 ROTA 2 sets. Its going to be availble for sale in December I think.

RLS2, the RotA Entrance is scheduled to go on sale in December. I think they are selling what was left over from the special offer, and the entrance will not be restocked.

I don't think we'll get a DoE entrance, as that line is considered complete, unless there are enough sets left of the Wicked Additions and Room sets that they could do a special offer to help clear out the remaining stock on those. Buy any two or three DoE sets, get an entrance, and the leftovers can be sold individually or sent out as contest prizes or something.

Dungeon and Cavern entrances would be great, but what do we think is outside those lines? Whatever Stefan comes up with will be beautifully realized, but it can't possibly match everyone's preferences. As great as the RotA Entrance is, for example, I would like to have another RotA Entrance that shows it in a desert, perhaps with a couple of those dogs guarding the entrance and a sun-face on the ground in front.

One option that might be considered is to do multiple entrance pieces for each line; buy three of the first set to get Entrance A, buy three of the second set to get Entrance B, buy three of the third set to get Entrance C. But I don't want to "obligate" DF to do multiple entrances for every line, or to make entrances the only bonus pieces that will ever be available.
