Hello Jeff, Doug,

Can we put an if statement in the store code? If (dblookup == 0) { exit display } else { display item } It makes it a lot easier when you are looking to see what is in stock.

On the other hand, it would also be nice to have an overview (with pics) of what is currently out of stock, and what is permanently OOP, so everybody knows what they are missing.

Ok so I agree how about a checkbox on each page that would hide any out of stock items through a simple javascript.
