DISCOUNTS/DISCOUNTS/AND MORE DISCOUNTS FOR BIG PURCHASES

I'd like to know if there are any discounts available when buying many sets at once, i.e. $1000 -- ; $2000 -- ; $3000 -- worth? What would be considered a large amount? I finally have some money to spend and would like to make the most of it by getting some old sets and new one's, too -- I hope you don't mind me asking for discounts?

Thanks.

Considering the +1900.00 I just dropped, I wouldn't say no to such a thing, but I'll be happy if they just use the profits to continue their product lines and expand upon the ideas we keep putting forward in the suggestion threads.

Usually the only time I have ever scored "great" discounts is when helping clear their "on-hand" inventory at something like GenCon. But that is a hit-or-miss proposition.

Although some kinda Proof-of-purchase or points reward system would be kewl, I guess we'll have to be happy with the occassional easter egg or "bonus piece" for multiple purchases. 8(

Although I would definitely say that would be amazing, let's don't forget that this guys are a small company that has gone through difficult times to keep the company going on, and they have been forced to cut off the beneffits a lot and gone with this policy of no sell to other stores in order to survive. So I will not push them too much here.

May be they could give a little discount coupon, or any of the old individual pieces or the limited edition gift pieces for orders over 1000$... but only may be. I think they have to decide if that's good for bussiness or not. :-)

Greetings,

If anyone is interested in placing a +$1,000 order please email me and perhaps something can be arranged. Honestly, much depends on the actual sets you wish to order.

Thanks!

Dwarven Forge has some of the best customer service of any company out there.
At the end of last year I purchased four sets from the Den of Evil series.
Well, one of my pieces was chipped either from a casting defect or it was dropped.
I emailed the company and Jeff promplty sent me a two replacement pieces for my one slightly damaged peice. I just wanted to publicly say thank you now that I have an actual account. You guys have a great product and you take care of your customers.
I think that is a winning combination. You also have some pretty good promotional offers when you release a new set . Discounts are always welcome as long as can make enough profit to stay in buiness and keep producing a quality product.
