Nooo!!! My camera died!!

I spent an hour setting up a really great SF setup, with accessories from Tony Griffon and from Hirst Arts to spice it up a bit.... and then my camera died! It's a Cannon sd1000, and it gave me a "lens error" message, which a little online browsing revealed is a common flaw to these things, and expensive to fix.

NOOO!!

I can't imagine getting through the stresses of life without my camera. Oh, this is going to be a difficult time.....

L,

Your camera will be missed. The joy it gave to us, the readers, when you would display your art. Please be strong and stand proud. When the time is right reach out, go out, and find your next camera. The last camera would have wanted it that way. A moment of silence why we all reflect back on all the pictures you have posted with that camera. ... ...

No further viewings will be held. The camera will be buried in a private ceremony with only 1 in attendance. It's pieces and parts will be scattered over a land fill. That was it's final wish.

I've just closed my eyes again
Climbed aboard the dream weaver train
Driver take away my worries of today
And leave tomorrow behind
