To all the Forum Fanatics out there, I wish you a happy Thanksgiving! Enjoy your turkey, or ham, or chili dogs, or whatever your family tradition happens to be. Eat heartily, and watch some football, or paint some minis, or just hang out with your family and friends. It's a great tradition, one which always brings me joy, as I hope it does for all of you.

:D

Indeed... Happy replicated bird-meat festival to everyone... I would that your yamms were tender and your turkey moist, but most of all that your Rokeg Bloodpie tasted just like dear ol' mom used to make...

maj! {Klingon for Good}...
