Ruins: The unearthed tomb of Sir Outindasun

As always, I tweaked this as I photographed it, so the scenery shifts a bit in the pics. But I really like the way with ruins you can create a fully realized building (albeit a crumbling one.. heh heh heh).

I particularly like the way you can combine the various pieces to make really interestingly shaped crumbling walls. Truly outstanding.

Enjoy!

Gosh - just love the lighting on those pics!

As well, love the 3 tiered effect that the ruins set allows you to create so easily!

Nice set up !
I really like the simplicity of the scenery.
No need to make something complicated, few pieces are just working fine.
Thanks.

Thanks, guys!

Here are some more pics - slightly different arrangement, but it didn't seem like it was different enough to warrant a whole new thread.
