Any update on Cavernous Lake or the Gladiator Arena?  Posted by Buggeye - 2004/04/03 03:34
Just wondering if the Cavernous lake set might be available at GenCon in Mid August '04.
And I put my name on Stefan's list of those who would purchase the Gladiator Arena. The last update of any kind was that he'd have some info around Christmas '03. With the new website up and running perhaps he's closer to some solid info. This is a must have set for me. I'm looking to build something that would fill a 7' x 4' table, hehe.

I too have been patiantly awaiting some news on the Gladiator Arena. It has me chomping at the bit, actually. I'm dying to get my hands on one of these so I can run a Gladiator campaign. The photos simply rule and I'm dying to know. Any news?

The arena might not be as usefull as the river and lake sets. (Which I really need - Winny Complaint # 3,453)
How much would this arena cost? $ 300 $400 ????
Saving my money,
Cheers

I agree Thor. It seems like I can use water in caves/caverns a LOT, but the arena is only going to be useful occasionally (unless I run a gladiatorial game).
The arena is a "nice to have," whereas the lake & river sets are close to a "must have."

The Arena set is on hold right now. It is too expense to produce. Sorry
The Cavernous Water Set is in preliminary design, but right now we are concentrating on the Sci-Fi line the Floor Set and another fantasy product that I can't divulge right now.
I would expect the Cavernous Water Set to not be out before Fall of 2005.

Nooooooooooooooooooo!!!

Gah, the water set is the one my group has really been jonesing for for months. Ah well, at least now we have a better idea of the scheduling.

Thanks Tom, (sniff sniff) We will have to do somthing about water/rivers soon. I'll probably use blue and white paint on thin boards with a layor of elmers glue. Quick and easy.

(By the way we keep statistics on PC cause of Death and Drowning is in the top 5.)

I really wanted these sets. Mucho usefull. My buddy likes the sci-fi stuff and we figured we wouldn't see that til 2008++. Maybe the water stuff too will "suddenly" be released with little or no warning
Waiting & Whinning !!!!

Tom, your stuff looks great. The only thing I wish I could easily do is make irregular waterways and lava rivers. I can do it, but to make it really nice looking I'd have to break out the Green Stuff and mold it by hand. That kind of takes away the advantage of having prepainted DF stuff! :lol:
For regularly shaped areas we'll probably do what you've done with such great results, Tom. Thanks for the pics!

Darn, I and my group were hoping for the cavernous river and lakes set for this summer. We have no use for the Sci-Fi sets. :(

We are waiting also. Gonna be real nice set. (I hope!!!) Is it still:
Carernous River Set & a Carenous Lake set ???? Is that it? :lol:

Are these Two Separate Sets You Think? Or Just Modular enough to do Either?
