Hopefully this image lets you know what each particular product contains. It is important to note that the Gatehouse product shows the big double doors - the backside has a portcullis that is not visible.

These are actually pretty cool and I have used them to build a nice castle for a few dnd games. The tower and wall set 1 are very hard to find these days but the other pieces aren't too difficult to find.

On a side note, I have some extra keeps and and gatehouses if anyone wants to trade for some of their unwanted gaming crap.

Just wanted to let everyone know that there's a big sale on the MK Castle Keep and Gatehouse at Troll and Toad, especially for bulk buys!:

Apparently, the Walls sets are very hard to find, but I was wondering if anyone had built any castles using the gatehouse/keep with DF walls. The colors are going to be off, but I was thinking about trying it with the RoTA stuff.

Then again, at those prices, perhaps I'll buy a few sets and try to do some color matching!

Hmmm... or anyone try using these with the MBA walls?

_____

Does anyone have any of these Walls/Towers etc for trade?

I have keeps... but would be interested in the other pieces.
