now im getting into the swing with showing my gaming table and DF stuff.
one ambition of mine was to collect modular terrain for sci fi games such as AT 43 infinity and dark age to create a sci fiction modular stalingrad.
ive always been obsessed with stalingrad as the battle amongst the ruins of the volga was at a knife edge for both factions in 1942.
here we see the Red Blok fighting it out with the UNA amongst the ruins of some far flung planets city

I must say that setup is incredible. Great job, and doubly so considering it is not a fantasy setup.

with the big setups its pretty easy and quick to set them up due to the fact most pieces are large.
Actually I did not paint the soldiers. they are prepainted miniatures.
I want to capture the feel of stalingrad with fear and anxiety the snipers the pinned down squads the indirect fire.
ill dig up some more pics in the near future
