DoE Idea - DoE Lava Fountain

Posted by Duncan_and_Dragons - 2012/02/10 06:47

Has anyone thought of painting their Fantasy Floor Lava Fountain to match the DoE demon heads? The Fountain horns are slightly shorter but I think it might look good especially with the new DoE expansion lava pieces. I know this idea is a bit premature, but half the fun of Christmas is anticipation.

Since I have neither DoE or the Fantasy Floor set, I will not be able to experiment. I am waiting for March to buy the Fanatsy Floor set. Sigh...

That's an awesome idea! I would do it, but I already have customized my lava fountain and want to leave it as it is now. (I just filled in the bowtie holes, since mine was one of the older sets before the switch, and then I painted the floor to match the Hellscape floors, which are more grey and have less brown in them than the cavern and dungeon floors).

But since the DoE WA has those awesome lava-spewing dragons, a room with them along the walls and the fountain in the center would be undeniably awesome....

Yes me, but it was difficult to find the correct grey that Stefan made and used for the DOE set.

If someone has an idea or knows how it's possible to find the correct grey, please, don't hesitate to tell it ! :)

Soon
