Hello,

sadly as i stated in another topic it would not be possible for me to order the rots entrance single, the basic postage in the calculator is simply too much. Would it be possible to reserve one for the next order (i would even prepay it, just to make sure i aet one copy)

Or would a workaround be possible to shave off most of the P&P cost (which is 67$ for one rota entrance btw)

Greetings Tobias

I agree - this seems the only other alternative to getting together and getting several shipped to Europe in one box and redistribute.

See my note in the other thread about the sale. I'm willig to re-ship items if it saves our Euro comrades some money, and isn't too onerous.

Does anyone know how many Rota Entrance pieces there are left? I won't be able to order this and a couple of other things until thursday or so.

Store counter still lists 50 (which is the max it ever lists for anything) so you should be fine.
