FOUND THE TILE SYSTEM PHOTOS TO DF SETS

Posted by dndgamer - 2012/06/09 17:49

I just found all the photos to the TileSystem program used to create paper layouts of Dwarven Forge sets. I must of DL them a long time ago and forgot they were even on my hard drive. I'm posting a few of the photos below but if anyone wants all photos to a set send me an email to dndgamer@live.com.
These are the sets I have:

Are these the un-edited photos alone, or the "tile files" ?

Cheers.

I've finally uploaded all the photos I had of the Tile System to SkyDrive and made them public.

I don't know much about SkyDrive but I hope it works because attaching all those files was giving me problems.

The files are listed under DF Tiles but if you can't locate them with a search send me an email (dndgamer@live.com) and I'll forward you the links.

Dndgamer,

Did you recieve my e-mail asking for these pictures? I was the one asking how big the files were and that my satelite connection was slowed down due to my over-use near the end of my billing period. My internet connection is back to normal, but now I'm not sure my email provider will let more than 5 megs through. Give it a try if you did get my e-mail.

Thanks, Bill

I completely forgot about these! I'm sure I still have them all on one of the old laptops but until then, here's the link for those who'd like to DL the files:

OMG! All the files are still there and setup by groups. You can select caverns, Den of Evil, Dungeon Accessories, Fantasy, Medieval Building, Medieval Furniture, AND...drum roll please.....Treasure & Magic Items.

Feel free to send me an email if something is not working but please bear in mind these are files from a very long time ago and thanks to the "cloud", still around.

ENJOY!

Does anyone still have the map maker software that used these pics?

Also, would love to know if you find these useful since there's no way of me tracking who DL theme. Thanks.

I found a photo file on my computer including the lastest set so I'm going to work on it again and again since there are missing stuff :

- latest lava set II
- doe expansion is missing
- rota accessories
- catacomb sets and accessories
- ice caverns
- woodland set

Guyz I also noticed the pilar from the rota and the ones of the advanced builder set 3 are different ... damn

The advanced builder set II is done for a long time !
I let the archive link in the past there.
Don't be affraid, I'll post it again.

It has the drawings only...no pictures there. Heroquest, I remember someone posted the Wicked Additions 3 pics years ago (don't remember who..), and I've added them to the Tile System, but never saw any AB2 ones in this forum..

Yep it was me ^^.
I'm currently adding the latest set (all photos).
Still working on that.
Will let you the final link there soon.
