Our last game session pics

Just a few pics I snapped with my iphone before and during our last session. I needed a street scene down by the docks for the final battle of the Pathfinder Council of Thieves adventure path.
Clever play by the players took down the big bad guy before the horde of devils ripped them to shreds.

Very cool set up. Compact but with plenty of cool features.

I love this setup! It looks really great, you immediately get this shady harbor feeling. Very atmospheric and cool details!

Well done! That is a really believable dock setting. Do you remember where you got your water mat with the hexes on it? I have been looking on the Internet for a mat like that but couldn't find one.

Thanks M4jumbo, Kronos, and Radien!
Radien, the mat is the Paizo flip mat Ships. It has a diagram of a ships decks on one side and blank sea with a one inch grid on the other side. You should be able to buy it from Paizo or on eBay.

Cool setup! I particularly like the inclusion of pieces from the ruins set. I immediately get the feeling that this is not a place I'd like to visit.

Thanks Feymous! Ruins is one of my favorite sets. Adding just a bit really adds flavor to any setup.
