Beautiful water temple layout. I really like your use of cavern tiles in building this. Very creative using them for above ground terrain around the temple. Where did your non-DF pieces come from?

I especially like the main bridge, domed entrance, and bunk beds in the guard room.

The entrance is very cool. I've been wanting to get one of those rope bridges for awhile.

I've seen that rope bridge before. What company is it from?

Also did you make the domed entrance from scratch or find that for sale somewhere else? It is a wonderful center piece to this build.

I love it!

All those cool painted accessories make all the difference.

I know someone that will soon get a "You Rock the Free World"!

OMG!!!! I can not believe this setup..... I Love it!

It has been a long time since I gave out a YRTFW with this much enthusiasm... The layout, the theme, using one of my favorite baddies, the aboleth, it all went together like PB&J.

This setup has earned....

A QUADRUPLE YOU ROCK THE FREE WORLD!!!!!

Extremely awesome setup! I especially like the single open water tile in the room, this is so simple but the effect is great. And cool accessories, they rock! Thank you for sharing! :)

Wow! Thanks everone.You all sure know how to make someone feel good about their build.I appreciate it. The cabbage looking thing is well, hay strung out with poop on it.The Kua-Toans dont use the bathroom upstairs and the Abolith doesnt want them going in his pool.The priest wont mind as hes dead.
