European Website 6" DoE Passage w/Inserts

I've asked this in another thread but since there was no answer yet and I'm very eager to spend my money on this I gave the question its own thread:

When will the 6" DoE Passage w/Inserts be available on the European Website? (And will Miniaturicum in Germany sell them too?)

Sorry for the slow reply. I got flat footed by the early availability and haven't spend much time at all here at home during the last week.

Answer 1: yes. I didn't manage to get it listed last week but will have it available by Monday.

Answer 2: not sure yet. Watch this space and Miniaturicum.

More to follow.

It is online now.

I've also just contacted Miniaturicum and offered him a (very limited) number of corridors. It is them up to him if he wants them and how to distribute them among his customers.

Hi Jens

I've just tried to order some 6" DoE passageways but it won't let me. The checkout cart process keeps getting stuck on the "choose your postage options" step? It says "error - choose another method" but the only other method is to pick up in person??? I live in the UK.

I've pm'd you but thought I'd post here just in case others are having similar problems?

Dave

I didn't receive your message yet (they sometimes are delayed as they get forwarded to my mobile account).

I'm looking at it now.

The problem normally occurs when it has problems with an address OR the weight. It needs to have a valid range for both. Only pickup allows any weight.

I did check every weight up to 30 Kg for the UK.

Was the order between 30-60 kg?

In this case it is fixed. I took of the UK from the zone 1 but seem not to have added it on it's own for a lower fee. If it is lower, then I need to check it out. Not that I have a rounding issue 2kg and you are =2kg exact or something weird like that.

Hi Jens

Problem solved, I received your paypal invoice and have just ordered and paid for my DoE 6" passages - WOOHOO!!!

They're really expensive but as they're limited, I know that if I didn't buy them now, I'd be kicking my self for the next 10 years!

Can't wait for the catacombs set. Damn you Stefan for making my bank balance hurt so much! :)
