Very nice setup. I especially like the way it looks like a ruined pyramid.

Very cool and atmospheric! I really like how you arranged everything. And the skull fountains rock!

Thank you for sharing! :)

Awesome- I've been wanting to pit my players against the Yuan-Ti. Thanks for the inspiration!

Yuan-Ti and biscuits...took me a minute to get it but that's pretty damn funny.

Thank you Shadbelly!I couldnt get the Indiana Jones theme music out of my head while I set it up.

Thank you Kronos!You are a master of creating atmospheric set ups so that is most appreciated.The fountains look good I belive due to the paint I used.Vellejo Game color more than anything else.They make the Thomarillion and Grendel pieces Pop.

Thank you Granpappy 77.So many great D&D monster races are under used.I try to bring them to my players in a way they might learn something about each they encounter.My players know the rules but not the Lore.

Thank you Shadox! A One AND a Half?!?!  Whoooo Hooo!Score!I love the coveted YRTFW!

What a great setup! I really like how you incorporated bits from various sets and make it work. Nice job. And I love the title.
