This is a follow up of my post about the Grendel Shaman's Fungi Painting Tutorial.

Here are the mushrooms into a fast-assembled crude cavern.

Biowizard,

I've been following your mushrooms since you were painting them. They are beautiful and I just ordered a set today because you convinced me they look amazing in the cavern sets. Now we just need some fungi caverns from DF to add even more variety ;).

Excellent work! Loved this paint job in your original tutorial and love it even more in a DF setup. I gotta get me some of these mushrooms :)

I agree these look great, and it was really nice that you shared the tutorial with us. I ended up buying some of these and painted them pretty much following your tutorial and they came out nice. The only thing I was disappointed in was that they ones I bought came without the free standing "extra" mushrooms, but I'm still glad I got them. I agree it would be awesome if Dwarven Forge made some mushroom pieces for their cavers. Can never have too many mushrooms and types of mushrooms for the Underdark!
