Thanks. As I stated in the comments, there will be changes made to the layout for the actual game. The layout was for visual effect.

Jaw dropping! Yippie, I saw the MBA rope bridge I asked Santa for this Christmas! I looked all over for close up pics of it but could only find a few. Looks great, I'm glad I asked for it.

Love you mountains! They look similar to a 10 month project I just wrapped up last week. Pics coming when I get time. No, my layout won't look like this! lol

That is an awesome collection, Sorn! Most of the time when I see a WIP video that I really like on the TerranScapes Youtube channel I think something like "that looks really great, I bet this is for Sorn" because you always have the most awesome stuff he builds. And you really bring your collection to life, it all looks really great. It must be a pure joy to game on that table. Thank you very much for sharing! :)

Hey Sorn, great setup!

I remember you've said that you are in Virginia - I moved to the Hampton Roads area in Southern VA, and would love to join you for a game if you've got room for a player. If not, I'd be happy to GM for you guys just to check out your sweet layouts!

Thanks, Fu Man Chu. I live in the DC area. How long does it take you to drive to DC? I may be too far away from you.
