Zaltar Appears on Peter Atkinson's First Paladin

If you want to see where my alter ego of Zaltar was first born you should check out this wonderful video series produced by my good friend Peter Atkinson, former CEO of Wizards of the Coast and current CEO of Gen Con, LLC...he is the one who coaxed me into the Evil Zaltar persona...

The First paladin is a film series about Peter's D&D game! he brings on some special guests to play and I was fortunate to not only be a special guest but also to take over as DM for a session using Dwarven Forge Pieces!

I appear in the 5-6 segments....Makeup in the 6th segment (where I DM) was applied by my girlfriend Lulu....

Zaltar Keeper of the Catacombs!

I just finished watching "the First Paladin" series and I liked it!
Stefan appears specifically in the latest 2 clips: Episode 4 Segment 5 and Episode 4 Segment 6... and probably in the next one to come? He's quite good as a DM!!!

Thanks so Much!

My only regret was taking my cloak off during the filming....but we were at it for hours under very hot camera lights in a very small room with no ventilation, and I swear I was gonna pass out If I kept it on....it is made of very thick heavy material....you can see my face get clammier and clammier as the video goes on...lol...
