Buy more DF sets!

Look, even cats love them. Mine is sitting vigil over my valuable stuff and won't be bothered by anything.

Indeed she/he looks quite comfy! But what is that between the two MBS builds?

@ Arcarius

That's Psomminiature of course! (<http://www.psomminiature.com/>)

It's their "ENVIRONNEMENT ENTREPOT/GRANGE" which could be translated in "warehouse/stables environment". Their web site is still only in french but you can probably scroll & see what you like with the images. The owners (Olivier & Sandrine) can answer back any of your questions by emails in English too! Also, Stefan announced a collaboration not to far ago with them (<http://www.dwarvenforge.com/forum?func=view&catid=3&id=42182>) and Dwarven Forge will probably offer a few of their sculpts (<http://www.dwarvenforge.com/forum?func=view&catid=3&id=42182>) in the near future...

Dwarf, I like your cat. He looks like nothing ever bothers him!

Hi all,

May be we should ask to Olivier and sandrine, if they could think to our cats when they create a new environment. It will better for them....Poor beast lol

Thanks for the pics :)

Soon

Lord

@ Arcarius:

Biowizard is right. Those are from psomminiatures and it's the stables environment. What I was depicting here is my last setup from my Pathfinder roleplaying game. It represents a small part of a wilderness border town which my players came into last session. After playing for about 2 years, it was the first time they reached a place where they could pay with gold pieces. In all other places, barter was the way to go.

Not shown on the picture on the left hand side of the table is also a small dungeon they will be exploring next time. It is still covered so they couldn't see what's waiting for them. This latest session was packed full of roleplaying and gathering information (not with a die roll but with roleplaying) in order to get new hooks for adventures. The first thing all 3 women in my playing group said when they found out, this was a civilised town (e.g. you could buy with gold pieces) was: "Oh, cool! SHOPPING"! I guess some things never change...

I am still waiting for my delivery from Yansolo and a few of his really cool roofs...
