Can I now purchase internationally from the DF website?

_____

I just recieved a $25 off coupon from DF, part of the latest Newsletter.

It states that I can get $25 off if I spend over $125.

I know in the past that Jeff and the guys couldn't sell internationally, has that changed, or is this $25 coupon useless to me?

If it is useless to me, can I transferr it to another Forum user of my choice?

Please let me know.

Thanks

Hey there down under.

Did you also PM and e-Mail Jeff about this?
Hitting him up all three ways should attract some of his attention somehow.

No actually, I haven't.

I am not going to lose any sleep if he doesn't get back to me, or if I can't make use of the discount. It just 'erks' me that I am international, but still get these coupons from companies even though they then turn around and say "Sorry, US/Canada customers only."

Well I probably won't be using mine either. The wife nixed getting more Sci-fi stuff as the one box we have sits on the shelf. She doesn't feel we play enough sci-fi to make it worth it.

You know the only problem with getting into this SSt minis game....?

That Sci-Fi DF terrain is looking mighty good atm?!?!?!?!

Damnit!... When it first came out (the DF Sci-Fi Terrain), my wife told me she could see me purchasing alot of it. I thought I had her though, as I didn't get into the SWM line of minis, and haven't played any 'GW' Sci-Fi game for many many years.

Now this damn SST game comes out, and all I can think about is how much I will need to save up in order to get DF Sci-Fi terrain.... sigh.

I need a life... seriously... hehehe.

I e-mailed Jeff as soon as I received my $25 voucher. I asked if this meant that he was now able/prepared to ship overseas. He said "No, sorry to be a tease!" So the voucher is worthless if you're outside USA/Canada.

I haven't been able to get a reply to the comments I posted here:

Just a suggestion, you might contact someone in the states that is not using their coupon and make arrangements thru them.
