WOW - epic set-up!

How long did it take to run people through this?

Fantastic, set up.. that keep really looks dreadfully evil. I love the crfeature peeking out from under the stairwell area, really captures the moment of him there.

Thanks, Harneloot. I built this for my own enjoyment, not a game. We have a break in gaming for a few weeks, so on our regular game night I just started tinkering around, seeing what I could build. I started at the elevated old keep and worked down towards the temple (which I built the next night as by then the Dragon's story started taking shape, so I needed a temple to make it work. Plus, that end of the table seemed bare.

I may take some of the ideas from this for a later game or two.
