Hello,

Here is just a little Star Wars setup that explores the dark side of the dark side....

While Luke, chased by Vador, is trying to launch a torpedo in a little hole of the Death Star...

And the Death Star strategists tries to shoot him down...

Lets see what lies beyond : the Super High Tech computers of the Death Star.

Humm, this may explain why they cannot shoot down a single fighter.

The Death Star Catina is also not very young...

While the barman is blackmailed by a storm trooper (maybe he have something to do with illegal poker games)

<http://www.manu-et-sophie.be/D-F/Dork12.JPG>

Yes, they are everywhere.

There are things that will never change...

If you find a hair in your dishes, just complains to the Chef...

<http://www.manu-et-sophie.be/D-F/Dork9.JPG>

Yes, even on the Death Star, you have to recycle...

Just to know, how is working a laser canon?

Rodenbach,

Great set up and use of the ol' Sci Fi sets. Don't see them too often.

Where did you get the Super High Tech Computers of the Death Star that are in pictures 3 and 4?

Thanks,

-Bob

It comes from an old Wizkids blister (2002) with other supplies. It come from the "Indoor Adventure Kit"
And the junk container also come from a Wizkids blister : "Outdoor Adventure Kit"
Items came pre painted.

To continue with the Star Wars Universe, here is just another minimalist setup :
