Is Dwarven Forge hiring? Posted by jasdotcom - 2013/07/18 16:18
I know a lot of you forum members chuckled at this thread title but I think it's one of a few questions worth asking:
Considering how much product DF will be able to create because of the Kickstarter campaign, are we going to start to see Game Tiles and classic resin lines in gaming stores again or will the company stick to online sales only?
Also, will you be needing sales reps next year at area conventions to drum up company presence and funnel prospective patrons to p.o.s locations?
We all agree that Dwarven Forge has a great product and now has financial backingnow the only thing missing is a good marketing campaign. What are the company's plans to address this?
- on a side note, I just purchased another Ice Cavern Set AND the Sandra Garrity Woodland Set, 7 days can't pass fast enough to get these to my door!
