Awesome stuff... someday

I am being good - No Hirst Arts, No Heroquest, No Kickstarters period - Hell, no Christmas presents for my wife! - No, No, No!

What little disposable income survives the holidays will be earmarked "caverns"

Stefan - please - later rather than sooner, my wallet is just not ready;)

Very cool additions. But by toy budget is shot for this month. The $300 price point is a bit high for one go. Please think about reducing the size of the set or even offering a parts kit.

I have enjoyed the other sets and will buy more.

Very cool and thanks.

Like a moth I have been drawn in by those pretty lights..... Then the dwarven doors shut behind me and before I knew what was happening I fell soundly asleep....

I woke and found some gold & silver coins had left my person but my backpack was now full of wondrous new treasures. I left the dungeon as guick as I could and headed to the nearest tavern to celebrate.

Re:More Flickering Fire Pits....Merry Christmas Posted by Keeblerorc - 2013/12/13 12:48

Dandare... had a much easier time picking up on those Half-Orc ladies at the Tavern with all that new treasure and all those shiny new lighted toys on the Bar counter Oldmanwillow... I am happy to sell half sets of the sets. Good Idea.

Kitenerd... Drool doesn't cost much and waiting sometimes allows you to figure out what you want most.

You Guys are awesome!

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays!

PS.... If Anybody is interested in my pieces contact me at: johnkeebler@charter.net

As a side note Stefan just got hold of me to do some Shiney Bobbles for himself....So...Dandare should probably save some room at the Tavern.... Drinks are on me.

@Keeblerorc

Awesome stuff! Love the blue fire pits the most. Don't have any budget left right now, but maybe a bit after Christmas.

Anyways, I have another thread going with an idea for a scrying pool here:

http://www.dwarvenforge.com/forum?func=view&catid=520&id=59560 and those raised fire pits look about the right size... are you casting those yourself or getting them from somewhere?
