

A little store in Denmark

Posted by Enurunner - 2006/03/07 01:56

Hey Dwarven Forge.

I've always admired you products, and often pondered on buying a few. The problem is, as always, the shipping costs. Since I live in Europe the cost is almost doubled, because of shipping. I don't know what can be done about that particular problem though, so I'll just keep quiet on that. :)

Anyways, I'm going to open a gaming store with two friends, august next year (I think), and if it will help you in any way, I'm more than willing to showcase, and sell of course, your products in the store.

Just an Idea

-Rune

=====