

More uses for the sci-fi sets

Posted by L - 2004/08/17 23:18

As I put my computer console elements in the cavernous sci-fi setup, something occurred to me.

Here's another use for these pieces -- I actually can't believe Stefan isn't plugging these sets for this. It's something that's out NOW, and extremely popular. Heck, it's even more accurate for this than for SW (as a SW purist, I can't help but notice that these don't technically look like any SW setting....)

Anyhoo, hope you guys enjoy the pics. Obviously there's a lot more that can be done, but this is just an indication of potential...

L,

Yup... "Bat Cave" was One of the Ideas I through out Durring our early discussions... Thanks for proving it Worthy... Now If WotC (Or Wiz Kids), would Only Make James Bond Figures... (If nothing else it would be a step in the right direction for Modern Genre' Gamers.....) Also I Forgot to Add in the Last Post that I Really Liked the "Giant" Cargo Door from Grendel... I was Dubious initially about the Size, but it Looks Good...
