

News Updates

News Updates should make the front page more often. I just found out that a new video went up about the room and passages set. That should be in the news feed on the front page!

The latest news update seems to be from 2010! That really needs to be kept more up to date, even if it is to announce a product that is now back in stock!

I really think that would help out!

Indeed.

Monthly updates would be a huge improvement.

I've found checking the forums is a better source of news then the news page hehe.
