Did White Knight Studios Go Out of Business? Posted by dartagnan4 - 2013/01/07 20:45
Back in the day I bought 3 or 4 of their dungeon accessories/terrain accessories and remember that it was a lot of stuff for the buck. I recently found a couple of old containers with a bunch of their stuff in it out was looking to pick more up - problem is can't find them.
BTW) Thanks Biowizard - I ran across your post about the dollhouse rugs and they are just what I have been looking for. (I hate the polystone rugs)

From August 2012:
Here's an email contact for buying the bookcases: "White Knight studios in Australia and their USA distributor is sgiove@aol.com "
I make no claims about the accuracy of this information. I also found little snippets that they went out of business in 200X, that the business moved to Newcastle and was sold, and so on. The above was the most recent reference I found.

You're very welcome!
Keep reading older posts. There's lots of good stuff hidden in there.
